

I feel that the current rules related to LPFM should not be changed to prevent non-commercial radio stations from reaching a national audience via repeaters and other lower power signals. Commercial use of the LPFM system should be maintained in a manner that allows local uses to prevail. I do not support any rule changes that would allow commercial domination of the LPFM spectrum to force out listener supported, non-commercial uses.